

Acara Healthcare Appoints Kerri Pendley as New Chief Operating Officer

Acara, a leading provider in home healthcare services, is excited to announce the appointment of Kerri Pendley as its new Chief Operating Officer.

SAN ANTONIO, TEXAS, UNITED STATES, September 3, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Acara, a leading provider in home healthcare services, is excited to announce the appointment of Kerri Pendley as its new Chief Operating Officer effective July 8th. Kerri brings more than two decades of experience in the healthcare industry, with invaluable expertise in healthcare operations, administration, and business development.

"We are excited to welcome Kerri to our team as the new Chief Operating Officer," said Mike Thiel, CEO of Acara Health.

"Her track record in operational excellence and strategic growth aligns perfectly with our mission to deliver quality care and innovative solutions. Her deep understanding of personal home care, clinical programs, strategic expansions and industry positioning will help advance our goals as we aim to enhance our services and expand our reach."

Corky Curtis, a senior leader at Acara, also expressed enthusiasm about Kerri's new role: "I am excited to welcome Kerri and believe her displayed commitment to fostering a vibrant culture and driving organizational excellence will undoubtedly propel Acara to new heights."

Kerri has also been instrumental in her roles outside of direct business leadership, particularly her involvement with the Home Care Association of America, where she serves as a Board Member and Executive Committee Member. Her comprehensive experience is expected to be a significant asset in Acara's strategic initiatives going forward.

"Joining Acara Healthcare is a wonderful opportunity for me to continue advocating for excellence in home and community-based care," said Kerri Pendley. "Acara has a stellar reputation for delivering high-quality health care, and I look forward to working with this
