About Sebastian James:

2024 will bring Sebastian James to the world stage with his highly anticipated solo album, Old School Cool, slated for release this fall on Tungsten Records, an independent label that James co-founded. The album was mastered by Dave Collins, a Grammy Award winning, mastering engineer who's worked with a laundry list of iconic superstars; Black Sabbath, Bon Jovi, Bruce Springsteen, Metallica and many more. Holding true to its name, the magic of Old School Cool is derived from the vintage approach that James followed when creating the record.

Sebastian James' first single, American Made is the anthem of the summer! It's sweeping the nation, getting heavy airplay in Sebastian's hometown of Kansas City, MO. The song reached #39 on the Top 40 Mediabase Chart. In regular rotation on radio stations across the country and the video reached #1 on the California Music Channel and over 35k organic streams on Spotify. Sebastian has been doing interviews at college, commercial and talk radio stations. He discusses the way that his humble, Midwestern upbringing heavily influences his music and his life. Sebastian's music can be described as a nostalgic mix of classic Rock, sprinkled with Country overtones wrapped in the catchiness of a Pop chorus. "American Made" reminds us that we can embrace our uniqueness while rejoicing in a shared love of family and unity.
