-- Mancamped, the AI-powered personal growth accelerator for men, proudly announces the successful completion of an $80,000 family and friends funding round. These funds, secured through the unwavering support of close supporters over the past few months, will play a pivotal role in advancing Mancamped's mission to tackle the alarming rate of male suicide—100 men lose their lives every day in the U.S. alone—by equipping men with the tools and resources they need to achieve their ultimate selves.

What the mind can conceive and believe, the mind can achieve.”

Napoleon Hill

This investment underscores the critical need for solutions that address male mental health, particularly at a time when men account for nearly 80% of all suicides in the U.S. Mancamped, through its cutting-edge AI technology and robust community platform, empowers men to overcome personal struggles, set and achieve meaningful goals, and build resilience in the face of adversity.

"We are deeply grateful for the incredible support we've received," said Kevin Washington, CEO of Mancamped. "This funding will enable us to enhance our platform and extend our reach to more men who need support. This investment is a critical step in our journey to make a real impact."

science, and gamification with personalized accountability and community support to help men stay on track and reach their full potential. The platform's mission is closely aligned with the broader societal goal of reducing male suicide rates by providing men with the tools they need to navigate life's challenges and find purpose.

With this new funding, Mancamped plans to expand its features, enhance the user experience and continue its efforts to support men in their personal growth journeys. The company's long-term vision is to create a global movement that empowers men to take control of their mental health and lives.
