

Immigrant Artists Explore Cultural, Historical and Social Experiences in "Unlocked Identities" Exhibition

"Unlocked Identities" curated by Art Curator from Athens, Greece Julia Sysalova, is a group exploration of personal experiences through the lens of art.

NEW YORK, NY, UNITED STATES, September 4, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- International Group Art Exhibition exploring the contradictory cultural phenomenon of identities opens on September 12, Thursday (at 18:00) at the Perseus Gallery (456 W Broadway, New York).

Titled "Unlocked Identities," the project curated by Art Curator from Athens, Greece Julia Sysalova, is a group exploration of personal, social, and historical experiences through the lens of art on a global scale.

Through the complex labyrinths of their (sub)consciousness 21 emerging immigrant artists from the former USSR, living in different countries (USA, Spain, Cyprus, Kazakhstan, Greece, Italy, Finland, Austria, Armenia, Great Britain, Kyrgyzstan, Singapore), explore the surrounding reality, revisiting how new cultural and social codes influence their realia and artistic practice.

In search of a complex balance between internal and external contradictions, the artists talking about the ones they know best - about themselves, creating a dialogue with each other and with the public through painting, art photography, sculpture and installations.

Participating artists: Oxana Akopov (USA), Asia Aveli (Kyrgyzstan), Patricia Demba (Greece), Consonance Ebb (USA), Irina Filova (USA), Galina Hartinger (Austria), Julia iSABEL (USA), Anna Livna (USA), Elmira Kandy (Kazakhstan), Lena Kardash, Spain, Evgeny Maklakov (Spain), Irina Metz

(Armenia), Gali / Galina Milter (USA), Tatsiana Naumcic (Italy), Irina Pakhmutova (Cyprus), Garegin Protopopov (Spain), Lana Reiber (USA), Veera Romanoff (Finland), Maya Shi (Singapore), Inna Voronov (USA), Anna Yakusheva (UK).
