alt.ai approved for listing on the Growth Market of the Tokyo Stock Exchange

Starting Friday, October 11, 2024, alt's common shares will be available for trading on the TSE. We would like to take this opportunity to express our sincere gratitude to everyone who has supported us since our establishment.

We aim to develop personal AI that accelerates the realization of an autonomous society by making memories eternal, reproducing will, and maximizing and eternalizing individual value. Since our founding, we've been consistently researching and developing P.A.I., with two missions: "from Laboro (labor) to Opera (artistic activity)" and "making our existence eternal." Going forward, we continue to strive for a world in which everyone has their own AI, freed from labor and able to immerse themselves in artistic activities. We look forward to your continued support in our endeavors.
