

Twin City Heating Air and Electric Prepares Homeowners for Winter Heating Season

BLAINE , MN, UNITED STATES, September 8, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- As temperatures begin to drop, Twin City Heating Air and Electric is gearing up to help homeowners in the Twin Cities Metro area stay warm and comfortable during the upcoming winter season. With a focus on energy efficiency and preventative maintenance, the company aims to ensure that Twin Cities residents are well-prepared for the cold months ahead.

Key highlights of Twin City's winter preparedness campaign include:

1. Pre-Season Tune-Ups: Offering comprehensive furnace inspections and tune-ups to ensure optimal performance and efficiency.

“

Winter in our region can be particularly harsh, and a well-functioning heating system is crucial for both comfort and safety,”

Wymond Wong - CEO

2. Energy-Efficient Upgrades: Providing consultations on energy-efficient heating solutions that can lead to significant savings on utility bills.

3. 24/7 Emergency Services: Reinforcing their round-the-clock emergency repair services to address unexpected heating issues promptly.

4. Indoor Air Quality Solutions: Introducing new products and services to maintain healthy indoor air quality during the winter months when homes are more tightly sealed.

5. Community Education: Hosting a series of free webinars on winter energy-saving tips and basic furnace maintenance.

Twin City Heating Air and Electric encourages homeowners to schedule their heating system check-ups early to avoid the rush as temperatures plummet. The company is also offering special early-bird discounts for furnace and heat pump upgrade installations.
