More about Sergeant Jones:

Born in Lawton, Oklahoma, Kevin Jones, possesses a deep-rooted passion for military service, instilled by the esteemed legacy of his family members. Enlisting in the Marines in February 1988, Kevin embarked on a journey of commitment and selflessness. Throughout his military career, Kevin served with distinction, holding crucial roles in Administration and Payroll, achieving the rank of E5 Sergeant. He dedicated 12 years to the Marines, serving his country with utmost respect. His deployments, including tours in Operation Desert Storm and Desert Shield, showcased his dedication to duty. During these operations, Kevin's deployment to Kuwait brought him face-to-face with the stark realities of combat. The moment the Iraqi soldiers surrendered with white flags remains etched in his memory. Yet, it was these same moments that fueled him to continue to carry out his promise to the United States. His exemplary service earned him prestigious accolades, including the Combat Action Ribbon, Southwest Asia Service Medal, and Good Conduct Medal.

During his service, however, Kevin sustained injuries, including a right ankle condition, a twisted right foot, and PTSD. To this day, there are lingering effects of these injuries. Following his honorable discharge, Kevin dedicated himself to a new mission: supporting his fellow veterans. Through his role at his local VA, Kevin has become a vital advocate for veterans, helping them navigate the often-complex process of accessing essential benefits. His deep understanding of the challenges veterans face has driven him to make a significant impact, ensuring that his comrades receive the support they deserve. Beyond his professional endeavors, Kevin is an accomplished author, having published two books. Married for 27 years, Kevin and his wife, Francesca Jones, residents of Duncanville, Texas, are the proud parents of a daughter, Kelsey Jones. Their shared interests include travel, fitness, and enjoying a diverse range of music genres.

"This is a significant milestone for Military Makeover to have touched the homes and lives of 40 veterans," said Nicole Dropesa, President of BrandStar Entertainment. "The show embodies BrandStar's mission to create a positive impact on peoples' lives."

Meet Our New Military Makeover Veteran

Introducing the Jones Family from Duncanville, Texas

Military Makeover with Montel is profoundly honored to feature Kevin Jones, a distinguished veteran and devoted family man, in our momentous 40th season.

Kevin Jones, born in Lawton, Oklahoma, possesses a deep-rooted passion for military service, instilled by the esteemed legacy of his family members. Enlisting in the Marines in February 1988, Kevin embarked on a journey of commitment and selflessness. Throughout his military career, Kevin served with distinction, holding crucial roles in Administration and Payroll, achieving the rank of E5 Sergeant. He dedicated 12 years to the Marines, serving his country with utmost respect.

His deployments, including tours in Operation Desert Storm and Desert Shield, showcased his dedication to duty. During these operations, Kevin's assignment to Kuwait brought him face-to-face with the stark realities of combat. The lesson of advancing into unknown territory was intense. The moment the Iraq soldiers surrendered with white flags remains etched in his memory. Yet, it was these same moments that fueled him to continue to carry out his promise to the United States.

His exemplary service earned him prestigious accolades, including the Combat Action Ribbon, Southwest Asia Service Medal, and Good Conduct Medal. Kevin's military career also allowed him to broaden his horizons. He was taken throughout the world while defending our country, experiencing diverse cultures and landscapes. This exposure was a transformative aspect of his service, for which he remains grateful.

Aside from carrying out his service, he found time to engage in sports, particularly boxing. He represented the Marine boxing team for three years while stationed in Hawaii, achieving an impressive record of victories and earning trophies in competitions like the "Friday Night Knockout." These experiences added another dimension to his reliable military service.

During his service, however, Kevin sustained injuries, including a right ankle condition, a twisted right foot, and PTSD. To this day, there are lingering effects of these injuries. Nevertheless, these injuries highlight the physical and emotional toll of his dedication to duty.

Following his honorable discharge, Kevin dedicated himself to a new mission: supporting his fellow veterans. Through his role at the VA, Kevin has become a vital advocate for veterans, helping them navigate the often-complex process of accessing essential benefits. His deep understanding of the challenges veterans face has driven him to make a significant impact, ensuring that his comrades receive the support they deserve. Beyond his professional endeavors, Kevin is an accomplished author, having published two books.

Kevin's family life is anchored in solidarity and mutual support as well. Married for 26 years, Kevin and his wife, Francesca Jones, residents of Duncanville, Texas, are the proud parents of a daughter, Kelsey Jones. Their shared interests include travel, fitness, and enjoying a diverse range of music genres.

Military Makeover is privileged to spotlight the Jones Family in this season's transformation. As we celebrate our 40th season, we honor Kevin Jones's service and sacrifices in defense of our nation.

Through collaborative efforts with our esteemed partners, this initiative serves as a token of our gratitude for his contributions to the military community and beyond. Kevin's story exemplifies the spirit and mission of Military Makeover, marking a chapter in our ongoing commitment to those who have bravely served.
