

Unity and the Heroes of 9/11: A Message from K3 Holdings and Alpine LA Properties

Statement from Michael and Nathan Kadisha

LOS ANGELES, CA, UNITED STATES, September 11, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- K3 Holdings, a privately held real estate investment firm with extensive holdings throughout the United States and Alpine LA Properties, a leasing company providing newly remodeled apartments at affordable rates in Los Angeles issued a statement today from its Principals Michael and Nathan Kadisha.

“As we commemorate the 23rd anniversary of the tragic events of September 11, 2001, the teams at K3 Holdings and Alpine LA Properties extend their deepest condolences to the families and friends of those who were lost. The wounds inflicted on our nation and the pain endured by those families may never fully heal.

However, the aftermath of these attacks provides hope that we can once again come together as a nation, just as we did in the days following the attacks in New York City, Washington, D.C., and in Pennsylvania.

We continue our efforts to combat homelessness, especially among veteran populations, ensuring that those who have served our country are not left behind”

Nathan and Michael Kadisha

On this solemn day, we pause to honor the memories of those who perished and reaffirm our commitment to unity, resilience, and gratitude.

The haunting images of destruction from the 9/11 attacks will once again be broadcast this week, reminding us of the devastation. Yet, alongside these memories of loss, we also recall countless stories of bravery—stories of first responders who ran toward danger to save others, military personnel who stood ready to protect our nation, and everyday citizens who embodied the best of humanity. We owe these heroes a debt of gratitude, one that can never truly be repaid.

At K3 Holdings and Alpine LA Properties, we believe that honoring those who protect our freedoms must go beyond words. It is reflected in our actions and commitments. We continue our efforts to combat homelessness, especially among veteran populations, ensuring that those who have served our country are not left behind. Additionally, we are dedicated to making our properties accessible to all, particularly those who bear the visible and invisible scars of war. Our efforts extend beyond mere compliance with accessibility standards as we strive to create environments that are welcoming and supportive for all.

As we reflect on the unity our nation displayed in the aftermath of 9/11, we are acutely aware of the divisions that exist today. The recent debate between Donald Trump and Kamala Harris highlighted these divisions. However, the example set by our leaders in the days following 9/11—when they put aside petty politics to allow our nation to heal—serves as a powerful reminder of what we can achieve when we come together.

This September 11th, let us strive to recall the spirit of unity that brought our nation together 23 years ago. Let us thank those who made it possible and continue to safeguard our country and our freedom. In their honor, we must work toward a future where unity and resilience guide our actions, just as they did in the days following that tragic morning.”
