Whisky cask portfolios are rapidly becoming one of the most attractive alternative investment options, with generous annual returns. Speyside Capital makes this opportunity even more accessible by including 5 years of cask storage and insurance with each investment.

Receiving a turn-key solution, Singapore citizens will receive full support in portfolio creation and can have complete peace of mind that their casks are being carefully managed, monitored and checked by Speyside Capital as they mature in value over the years within government bonded warehouses in Scotland.

With the global whisky market on an upward trajectory and whisky casks providing a safeguard against stock market volatility, Singapore investors are well-positioned to benefit from this unique opportunity.

In addition to comprehensive management services, investors can choose from various exit strategies, including selling casks for profit at maturity or bottling their whisky for a personalized touch.
