ORLANDO, FL, UNITED STATES, September 11, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The WAVES 2024 Academic Conference, is the 16th International Conference of the World Association for Vedic Studies (WAVES International) and 28th India Conference of the Wider Association for Vedic Studies (WAVES, India), hosted by Hindu University of America (HUA), to be held at the HUA Campus, located at Pine Lake Retreat Center, on 21725 County Road, 33 Groveland, FL 34736, USA, from September 13-15, 2024. The theme of the Conference: Prevention, Management, and Resolution of Conflicts in Vedic Traditions.

Conflicts at various levels have apparently become an inevitable aspect of human life and society. Recent developments in our community and larger society indicate that conflicts have become more prolonged as the current tools to address them have either failed or only provided partial results, leaving a lasting solution elusive. How can the Vedic traditions help us comprehend the complex nature of conflicts and empower us to seek enduring solutions? The upcoming 'WAVES 2024' conference will explore this significant question.

WAVES aims to bring scholars, researchers, and practitioners together to discuss various aspects of Vedic studies, with a special focus on conflict resolution within Vedic traditions. Participants will engage in discussions, workshops, and presentations exploring the complexities and nuances of these traditions. Over a 100 scholars and participants have submitted their papers and proposals related to the conference theme. The conference will consist of keynote speeches, plenary lectures, panel discussions, and 27 academic sessions for the presentation of research papers, and will host nearly 200 attendees from all over the world. One of the major features of this year's biennial conference is the participation of a considerable number of young authors, especially from the United States.

Many honorable guests will grace the event; Dr. Tony Nader, Dr. Subhash Kak, Dr. Joydeep Bagchee, Dr. Vishwa Adluri, Dr. Makarand Paranjape, Shri Sree Aswath and many more. Their inspiring guidance will indeed enhance the academic quality of the conference.
