psychological thriller, CHEAT, will be available September 17, 2024 on streaming and cable platforms across the US and Canada. Can love be torture? Audiences are set to find out when the movie releases.

Synopsis: Zoe's deteriorating marriage leaves her feeling isolated and longing for connection in the aftermath of a personal trauma. To escape loneliness, she blindly stumbles into a passionate affair, which ultimately leads her down a deadly path of desire, deception and betrayal. WATCH THE TRAILER.

Filmmaker Greg A. Sager navigates the characters and audience through the messy waters of an affair. “By placing these characters in extreme emotionally charged situations, I wanted to delve into the complexities and consequences of an affair from every angle while being inspired by 80’s Brian DePalma noir films such as ‘Body Double’, where nothing is as it seems,” says Sager.

CHEAT is a dark look at jealousy and trust from all vantage points of those involved while crossing multiple genres including psychological thriller, romantic drama and neo-noir, creating a unique and unpredictable experience with a strong female lead at the forefront. The movie ultimately asks the question, “Was it worth it?”

The original score was created by composer Rahul Shah who has written music for projects on Netflix, Amazon, PBS, BBC, ITV, Discovery, and various commercials. The film was produced by Fran Tran, Gary Elmer, Kevin Labonte, Brittany Slater and Greg A. Sager.

Lise Romanoff, CEO and Managing Director of Vision Films shares, "CHEAT is a twisted love story with a forceful female lead that challenges viewers' expectations. It takes the audience on a gripping roller coaster that keeps one guessing until the final scene."

The film stars Shelby Handley (All is Fine in '89), Ry Barrett (In A Violent Nature, Cult Hero), Latin music star Rodrigo Massa (Instructions Not Included, The Spencer Sisters), Arthur Boan (The Gardener), Jay Wong (Bait) and Madison Caan (Charmed to Death).
