EINPresswire.com/ -- Rick Mantei, a dedicated community advocate and supporter of charitable causes, recently volunteered with Habitat for Humanity at their Ebony Build Project, contributing his time and effort to build affordable housing for families in need. The Ebony Build Project is a unique initiative aimed at empowering African American communities by providing safe, sustainable homes through volunteer-led construction.

I'm honored to have worked with Habitat for Humanity on such a meaningful project. The Ebony Build not only strengthens neighborhoods but also provides a foundation for families to thrive.”

Rick, alongside a team of local volunteers, helped with various aspects of the build, from hands-on construction tasks to supporting the project's mission of bringing people together to create affordable homeownership opportunities. His involvement reflects his long-standing commitment to giving back to the community and making a tangible difference in the lives of others.

“I'm honored to have worked with Habitat for Humanity on such a meaningful project. The Ebony Build not only strengthens neighborhoods but also provides a foundation for families to thrive,” said Rick Mantei. “It's truly inspiring to be part of an initiative that builds hope, one home at a time.”

Habitat for Humanity's Ebony Build Project aims to foster unity while addressing critical housing needs within underrepresented communities. Through the collective effort of volunteers like Rick Mantei, the project continues to transform lives and uplift neighborhoods across the region.
