

Tan Fan Revolutionizes Self-Tanning with the Patented Sleep Sac, Offering Stain-Free Sleep and Radiant Skin

SALT LAKE CITY, UT, UNITED STATES,

EINPresswire.com/ -- With a mission to support radiant, glowing skin without the hassle of self-tanner stains, Tan Fan introduces the Sleep Sac—a patent-protected product that transforms the self-tanning experience.

Tan Fan, a female-led beauty brand committed to solving self-tanning challenges, continues to make waves with its patented Self Tan Sleep Sac. Since its launch, this innovative product has transformed the self-tanning experience, offering users a comfortable, stain-free sleep solution that keeps bed linens pristine while allowing them to wake up with a radiant glow.

A Solution Born from Necessity

One of Tan Fan's co-founders, after a skin cancer diagnosis, began exclusively using self-tanner to achieve her bronzed glow without sun exposure. However, she quickly realized the frustrating issue of self-tanner transferring onto bed linens and furniture. To address this, she and her co-founder spent seven years developing the Self Tan Sleep Sac, which launched in 2022. "We created a solution to a problem we knew many self-tanners faced—now they can enjoy their glow without worrying about stained sheets," shares co-founder Lucy Sherman.

Beauty and Functionality

Made from buttery-soft, proprietary silky poly fabric, the Self Tan Sleep Sac is lightweight, comfortable, and anti-absorbent, preventing transfer and protecting both skin and sheets. Its debut on social media platforms, particularly TikTok, resulted in over 24 million views and a sell-out within three days. Now a beloved self-tanning tool, the Sleep Sac not only prevents stains but also ensures an even, streak-free tan during sleep.

Expanding Market Reach

As Tan Fan grows, its founders aim to make their product a staple in the beauty routines of self-tanners everywhere. "We want every self-tanner to feel confident in their beauty routine, knowing they can achieve flawless results without sacrificing their sleep or linens," says co-founder Sarah Walker. The Sleep Sac is currently available through Tan Fan's website and Amazon, with plans to expand into select retailers.
