We like the three E's; Enlighten, Educate and Entertain. Viewers tell me that because of our wholesome content, the whole family, including the grandparents, sit around together and watch DBTV for hours. How many other outlets can say that", says Brunner.

We also hope that you will consider getting in contact with us through our website, by phone, mail or email and help fund us so we can reach more people, more families, and together make a positive impact for the future of Family-Centric Networks around the world", says Brunner.
