Helixbeat Achieves SOC 2 Type 2 Certification, Reinforcing Commitment to Security and Compliance

TAMPA, FL, UNITED STATES, September 13, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Helixbeat, a leading product and technology service provider, is proud to announce that it has achieved SOC 2 Type 2 certification. This certification underscores Helixbeat's unwavering commitment to the highest standards of security, availability, and confidentiality for its clients and partners.

SOC 2 Type 2 certification, governed by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants (AICPA), verifies that Helixbeat's security controls have been designed and, more importantly, have operated effectively over an extended period. The audit examined the company's security protocols, ensuring that Helixbeat consistently maintains robust practices for safeguarding client data.

"Our achievement of SOC 2 Type 2 certification is a testament to our relentless focus on protecting customer data and maintaining the highest levels of operational integrity," said Shan Kumar, Founder and CEO of Helixbeat. "This milestone not only reflects our dedication to security and compliance but also reinforces the trust that our clients place in us. We will continue to push the envelope in providing secure, reliable solutions across all our offerings."

This certification positions Helixbeat as a trusted partner for organizations that prioritize data security and regulatory compliance. With its rigorous and ongoing adherence to SOC 2 standards, Helixbeat is well-equipped to serve clients in highly regulated industries such as healthcare, financial services, and government.

The SOC 2 Type 2 audit was conducted by an independent third-party firm, further validating the integrity and effectiveness of Helixbeat's controls across its services and platforms.
