

AskRose Homework Help Returns for 2024-25 School Year

Free Tutoring Resource Provides Middle and High School Students with Access to STEM Homework Help from Rose-Hulman Institute of Technology Students

TERRE HAUTE, IN, UNITED STATES,
September 16, 2024 /

EINPresswire.com/ -- With school back in session, AskRose Homework Help, a National Tutoring Association-certified program, announces the return of its science and math tutors for the 2024-25 school year. This free educational support provides students in grades six through 12 with access to STEM homework help from Rose-Hulman Institute of Technology students.

Since Rose-Hulman established AskRose in 1991, the tutoring system has been a resource trusted by educators, parents and students across the country. Every Sunday through Thursday from 5-10 p.m. (Eastern Time) during the school year, around 20 AskRose tutors are available and equipped with a variety of resources to provide homework help to students via phone, email, or chat. Spanish-speaking AskRose tutors are also available on a varying basis and their schedule will be posted on the AskRose website throughout the year.

The AskRose Homework Help service has Rose-Hulman students available for free math and science tutoring sessions online, chat and by telephone Sunday through Thursday from 5-10 p.m. (Eastern Time)

“AskRose understands and emphasizes academic integrity and independent learning,” said Bernadette Ewen, Senior Director of Rose-Hulman’s Logan Library and Student Learning Resources. “Guiding the students through their challenges with patience, AskRose tutors will take them step by step to help build confidence and develop critical thinking skills that go beyond the current assignment.”

In addition to direct tutoring, AskRose offers an online toolkit for educators to share resources with their students and their families. This toolkit includes several materials that can be shipped or delivered at no cost while supplies last. Free presentations are available upon request. The AskRose website also has more than 500 videos and downloadable homework help materials and resources.

AskRose is committed to maintaining privacy and confidentiality. Students do not need to report their last name or phone number. Students and families can trust that their sessions and data are managed with the utmost care and respect.
