Believe Bank is a division of Regent Bank but operates as its own distinct program, offering individuals the opportunity to earn more on their savings while contributing to the nonprofits they care about. When customers open a Believe Bank High Yield Savings Account, another percentage in addition is donated to a nonprofit of the customer’s choice, providing a simple and impactful way to give back.

“We wanted to create a program where people can make a difference in their communities without having to give out of pocket,” Kouplen said. “Believe Bank allows individuals to support causes that matter to them, simply by saving. This reflects Regent Bank’s core mission of caring, giving, and advancing nonprofits that are essential to our communities. We have found that bank clients really want to make a difference with their banking and this allows them to do that.”

Also designed to be a passive fundraising tool for nonprofits, Believe Bank helps organizations raise funds without having to ask donors for direct contributions. Nonprofits can benefit from steady donations while individuals continue their everyday banking.

“Believe Bank is an exciting way to strengthen nonprofits and empower individuals to be part of that growth,” Bates said. “We’re proud to offer a program that not only benefits our clients but also makes a real impact in the communities we serve.”

With a quick and easy sign-up process, customers can open a savings account in just minutes and begin supporting the nonprofits that matter to them—all while earning competitive returns on their savings.
