

Kellstrom Aerospace Relocates its Asia Office to Singapore's Aerospace Park, Strengthening its Presence in Asia

DAVIE, FL, UNITED STATES, September 17, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Kellstrom Aerospace, a global leader in commercial aftermarket aviation lifecycle solutions, is excited to announce the relocation of its Asia office to Aerospace Park, Singapore.

This strategic move marks a significant commitment to expansion in Asia for Kellstrom Aerospace Group, which includes Kellstrom Aerospace, Vortex Aviation, and The Aircraft Group.

Combined with the strategic addition of new team members in the region, the company is in position to enhance its presence and capabilities in the region to support Airlines, Operators, Lessors and MROs.

George Poh, Managing Director, Asia Pacific (APAC)

Being located within Aerospace Park, home to numerous other aerospace firms, offers Kellstrom greater opportunity to establish partnerships, drive innovation, and enhance business development initiatives. The move aligns well with Kellstrom's global presence as an important participant in the commercial aerospace industry and reinforces its commitment to the industry in conjunction with its other locations in Fort Lauderdale, Chicago, Dublin, and Shannon.

"We look forward to continuing our growth and innovation in Singapore, these efforts are critical to ensuring our customers' long-term success, and we are committed to

supporting their evolving needs in an increasingly dynamic industry," said George Poh, Managing Director, Asia Pacific (APAC). "This is a tremendous opportunity to further enhance customer value through our comprehensive suite of aftermarket aviation solutions.”
