

Announcement: International Conference on Young Women's Breast Cancer and Health, October 29-30, 2024, Lisbon, Portugal

First of its kind global platform for sharing the latest medical advances and addressing the unique challenges faced by young women diagnosed with breast cancer

DENVER, CO, UNITED STATES, September 17, 2024 / EINPresswire.com/ -- The Breast Cancer in Young Women (BCYW) Foundation's global partner, CUF, is hosting the first international conference organized by the Breast Cancer in Young Women Foundation, which will take place at CUF Tejo Hospital. From Portugal to Japan, there will be more than 30 international speakers, recognized for their research and approach to breast cancer, particularly in young women, attending on the 29th and 30th of October, 2024. This groundbreaking event will focus on the increasing global incidence of breast cancer in young women, a complex issue driven by socioeconomic, biological, molecular, and other upstream factors that remain not fully understood.

This conference aims to be an International platform for sharing the latest advances in medicine and research, addressing the unique challenges faced by young women diagnosed with breast cancer. This first-of-its-kind conference will bring together a diverse, multidisciplinary group of professionals at the forefront of breast cancer and breast health research, treatment, and advocacy.
