

Malan Breton SS 2025 Collection Brings Themes of Betrayal, Revenge, and Hope to New York Fashion Week

NEW YORK, NY, UNITED STATES, September 17, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Malan Breton presented his SS 2025 collection, based on the themes of Betrayal, Revenge, and Hope during New York Fashion Week.

The collection, inspired by fairy tales of the 19th and 20th century, consists of strong, sinuous looks designed in leather, silk, summer weight wools, silk brocades, and the fine tailoring Breton has become internationally known for. Models were accessorized with Ladies Coutura Collection watches by Seiko Watch of America.

Breton composed the soundtrack for the show that was deejayed by Zeke Thomas (Son of Isiah Thomas) at the show which took place in New York City and was presented by EPNFW. The hair team was led by stylist to the stars Marco Maranghello, and beauty team led by the Emmy Nominated Vincenza Carovillano. The Fashion Show was closed by star model, Elton Ilirjani.

An exclusive afterparty that night at DOM featured performances by Quincy, Ben Hazelwood, and the sounds of Grippa who has recently collaborated with critically acclaimed songwriter Wendy Starland, with a Deejay set by Zeke Thomas.

Notable Attendees included: Malan Breton, Princess Jazmin Grimaldi, Ian Mellankamp, Crystal Waters, Quincy, Jean Shafiroff, Consuelo Vanderbilt, Michael Musto, Carmen D'Alessio, SAG Award Winner Jessica Pimentel, Tony Award Winner Baayork Lee, Tony Award winner Danny Burstein, Pierre Crespeau, and Ben Hazlewood.
