In today's competitive landscape, businesses require more customized videos to engage their audiences and stand out in the market effectively. While brand colors, fonts, and logos have always been effortlessly integrated, the simpleshow platform now offers even more. The Custom Video Builder allows enterprise users to seamlessly integrate their unique style into videos—whether by complementing the existing simpleshow-style images on the platform or using entirely custom assets. This includes incorporating specific product images, real workplace backgrounds, and branded corporate characters for a fully tailored experience. This enhancement creates communication that is not only more targeted but also more engaging and allows for more impactful storytelling.

Dr. Sandra Böhrs, Chief Marketing Officer of simpleshow, explains:

"Our Custom Video Builder is a game-changer for enterprise clients. It opens up new possibilities for crafting videos in a distinct visual world that are not just on-brand but deeply aligned with the unique stories and messages each company needs to convey – and it's all done with smart technology to make the video creation process easier than ever before."

simpleshow's full-service expertise sets them apart from competitors and allows for an impactful service element in the Custom Video Builder. As part of the package, clients are able to work with the simpleshow creative team to create suites of fully customized, animated illustrations that can be used to create their videos. All images are tagged for easy identification with AI and are easy to manage, organize, and change as needed.
