African Agriculture Holdings Inc Noticed by NASDAQ of delisting

LAS VEGAS, NV, UNITED STATES, September 18, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Mike Rhodes, CEO of African Agriculture Holdings Inc (NASDAQ: AAGR), has received a notice from the NASDAQ that the company will be moved to delisting following a notice of a delinquent financial filing for Q2. The company has made all efforts to resolve the filing delinquency and has submitted a reinstatement filing.

“AAGR intends to provide full documentation and filings to be reinstated as quickly as possible,” stated Mr. Rhodes.

ABOUT AFRICAN AGRICULTURE HOLDINGS INC

AAGR is the first “pure play” publicly-traded US company dedicated to bringing the large and increasing scale of African agriculture opportunities to global investors. AAGR seeks to offer high-quality animal feeds and related products to the West African region from its base at Richard Toll near St. Louis, Senegal.

SOURCE: African Agriculture Holdings Inc

###

Michael Rhodes
African Agriculture Holdings Inc
+ +1 801-389-4502
email us here