NEW FRONTIERS

New Frontiers

Since its founding in 2017, Hudson Neurosurgery has been at the forefront of spinal care innovation, providing exceptional treatment to patients with some of the most challenging spinal disorders. Dr. Choudhri has been a practicing neurosurgeon for over 25 years. Prior to founding Hudson Neurosurgery, he held significant roles at Augusta University (formerly the Medical College of Georgia), including Professor of Neurological Surgery, Director of the Neurosurgery Spine Service & Fellowship, and Chief of the Section of Adult Neurosurgery from October 2000 to August 2016. His extensive experience has attracted patients from all over the U.S. and beyond, including those from California, Florida, Tennessee, Oklahoma—patients have come to him coast to coast, truly seeking out his expertise.

Known for their blend of advanced technology and compassionate patient care, Hudson Neurosurgery has become a premier destination for patients seeking expert spinal treatment in the New York metropolitan area. The episode will explore their patient-first philosophy, where personalized treatment plans and empathetic care drive every decision.

Hudson Neurosurgery: Combining Expertise with Compassion

Led by Dr. Choudhri, Hudson Neurosurgery specializes in diagnosing and treating complex spinal conditions, particularly in patients with previous surgeries or co-morbidities. The practice is also known for empowering patients through education, ensuring they fully understand their diagnosis and treatment options.

Dr. Choudhri, a board-certified neurosurgeon with fellowship training, is internationally recognized for his expertise in spinal and neurosurgical care. A Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons graduate, Dr. Choudhri has built an esteemed career that spans decades, drawing patients worldwide, including athletes, celebrities, and dignitaries, who seek out his surgical skill and thoughtful care.

His leadership roles, including Chief of Adult Neurosurgery and Director of the Neurosurgery Spine Service at Augusta University, highlight his vast experience. Dr. Choudhri's specialties include complex spinal surgeries, deformity corrections, and CNS tumor treatments, making him one of the most sought-after neurosurgeons globally.

Tune In for a Glimpse into the Future of Spinal Care

The New Frontiers episode featuring Hudson Neurosurgery will air in early 2025, showcasing the revolutionary treatments and techniques that are transforming spinal care. Viewers will gain unique insights into the specialized care that makes Hudson Neurosurgery one of the nation's leading neurosurgical practices.
