TORONTO, CANADA, September 20, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- A memoir that offers an insightful look into the author's 33-year career in public education, "Landing On My Feet, Teaching and Learning During a Career in Education" by James Kleiner, will be prominently featured at The Word on the Street Toronto Books and Magazine Festival and the Frankfurt Book Fair 2024.

Kleiner's memoir recounts his extensive career teaching instrumental music in Connecticut public schools. The book not only reflects on the difficulties he faced but also the countless joyful interactions with students and colleagues that made his career fulfilling. Through heartfelt anecdotes and personal reflections, Kleiner pays tribute to the mentors who shaped his journey and provides valuable advice for prospective educators. The memoir illustrates how teaching and learning are reciprocal processes, where both students and teachers grow together.

As a retired public school music teacher and active musician, James Kleiner brings a wealth of experience to his writing. Currently teaching private clarinet and saxophone lessons at Loomis Chaffee prep school and performing around Connecticut, Kleiner's career spans over four decades. His dedication to education and music is evident throughout the memoir, which aims to inspire the next generation of educators.

"Landing On My Feet" will be showcased at The Word on the Street Toronto Books and Magazine Festival 2024, a premier celebration of Canadian and Indigenous storytelling. Visitors can find the book at The Maple Staple booth in Zone B near Stage B: Across the Universe at Queen's Park
