We chose to embrace print as a nod to the roots of the Dynamics Community and to create a keepsake that won't just end up in the recycling bin.”

With a cover interview featuring Microsoft MVP Mary Myers and helpful articles from leading Microsoft Partners, the Fidesic team says they have put together an issue that the conference attendees will find very valuable.

“We're excited to try something different and hopefully provide content that not only helps people get to know Fidesic, but provides entertainment and value to conference goers during their downtime,” said Fidesic's VP of Product and Growth. “We're all aware that ‘print media is dead’ and our daily lives are dominated by digital tools from sunup to sundown. However, we chose to embrace print as a nod to the roots of the Dynamics Community and to create a keepsake that won't just end up in the recycling bin.”

The Fall 2024 issue of Fido Magazine will feature articles by Ben Cole of ERP Connect Consulting, Paige Horne of Njevity, and an article by Binary Stream. It will also include a Fun and Games section, with puzzles, comics and trivia. There is no charge for the magazine and it will be only available in person at the Fidesic Booth #649 at Summit NA.

Depending on how this first issue is received, Fidesic plans to publish two issues per year which will only be available at Dynamics Communities Summit NA in the Fall and Directions NA in the Spring. These two conferences are major events within the Dynamics ERP community and are a significant part of Fidesic's event calendar.
