Shipley, 23, turned professional in the summer of 2024 following a notable collegiate amateur career. He was the low amateur at both the 2024 Masters Tournament and the 2024 U.S. Open, becoming only the 9th golfer in PGA TOUR history to achieve this distinction in both tournaments in a single year. Shipley qualified for these events by finishing as the runner-up at the 2023 U.S. Amateur Championship. He played college golf at James Madison University before transferring to The Ohio State University. Originally from Pittsburgh, Shipley is currently a member of the PGA TOUR Americas and has received sponsor exemptions to compete in multiple PGA TOUR events.

“As I start my career as a professional golfer, partnering with a brand familiar to me from both my hometown and college town is truly special. It's an ideal partnership as I begin my pro career.”

“We are excited to have Neal Shipley represent our brand as he embarks on his professional golfing career,” said Chris M. McElroy, Co-CEO of Schneider Downs. “Neal has strong connections to Pittsburgh, where our headquarters are located, as well as to The Ohio State University, aligning well with our expanding office in Columbus, Ohio. His poise and performance on the golf course make him an ideal ambassador for our firm.”

Under the agreement, Shipley will feature the Schneider Downs logo on the right side of his golf shirts through the 2026 season. He will also make personal appearances on behalf of Schneider Downs in both Pittsburgh and Columbus. The firm, headquartered in Pittsburgh and with a significant office in Columbus, finds the partnership particularly fitting given Shipley's ties to both cities.

"As I start my career as a professional golfer, partnering with a brand familiar to me from both my hometown and college town is truly special," Shipley said. "This is an exciting time for me, and I look forward to representing Schneider Downs and engaging with their team and clients."
