A Historic Convergence of Exploration

This unprecedented Voyage seeks to bridge the realms of outer space and Earth's last great wilderness, offering participants a rare opportunity to engage with one of the most celebrated figures in space history, alongside other icons of science and culture.

“Charlie Duke's participation in this Voyage elevates the experience to an entirely new level,” said Tristan Tanovan-Fox, CEO/Co-Founder of FUTURE of SPACE. “His journey from Earth to the Moon is one of the most iconic stories of human exploration. Having him share his insights on our Voyage to Antarctica—the last great wilderness on Earth—creates a powerful connection between the challenges of space and the stark realities of our changing planet. This Voyage is about more than just a destination; it's about understanding the shared responsibility we have for the future of our world and beyond.”

A Stellar Lineup of Global Thought Leaders

Joining Duke on this extraordinary Voyage are other cultural and scientific icons, including celebrated Actor William Shatner, renowned Astrophysicist Neil deGrasse Tyson, awarded Journalist Ann Curry, acclaimed Astronauts Scott Kelly and José Hernández, Ocean legacy Céline Cousteau, and distinguished Artist Stephen Wiltshire. This diverse and dynamic group will create an environment ripe for intellectual exchange, where participants can engage in deep discussions that span the realms of space, science, art, and environmental conservation.

Daniel Fox, Chief Visionary Officer/Co-Founder of FUTURE of SPACE, as well as a seasoned explorer and author of acclaimed book Feel the Wild, emphasized the Voyage's significance in bringing together leaders from diverse fields. "The Space2Sea Antarctica Voyage is a celebration of human curiosity and the drive to explore the unknown," Fox said. "By bringing together pioneers from different disciplines, we are creating a unique platform for cross-disciplinary dialogue. This is not just about exploring Antarctica—it's about fostering a deeper understanding of how our actions today shape the future of our planet and the space beyond it."

A Journey Like No Other

The Space2Sea Antarctica Voyage will set sail from Ushuaia, Argentina, the world's southernmost city, and will cross the Drake Passage to reach Antarctica. Participants will have the opportunity to explore the continent's frozen landscapes, observe its unique wildlife, and engage in discussions with the Featured Guests. The Seabourn Venture, equipped with the latest in expedition technology and luxurious amenities, will serve as the perfect base for this once-in-a-lifetime journey.

Daniel Fox highlighted the importance of collaboration and innovation in exploration.

"Exploration, whether in the vastness of space, the extremes of our own planet, or within ourselves, requires us to work together, to share knowledge, and to inspire each other. Charlie Duke embodies this spirit of collaboration, and his involvement in the Voyage will undoubtedly inspire all who participate."
