Supporting Construction Growth in Saudi Arabia

This distributorship comes at a time when the Saudi construction industry is experiencing significant growth, driven by large-scale infrastructure and development projects aligned with the Kingdom's Vision 2030 initiative. The availability of SpEC products through SMCC is expected to support the demands of this expanding sector, providing access to high-performance solutions, such as advanced sealants, designed to meet the region's unique construction challenges.

SMCC's role as the exclusive distributor will not only increase the reach of SpEC's product offerings but will also provide construction professionals with access to technical expertise and support services. These services include consultation and guidance to ensure optimal use of SpEC products in both new and existing construction projects.

Leadership Perspectives

Amin Mahmoud, Regional General Manager of SMCC, commented on the agreement, stating, "This partnership with SpEC represents a significant milestone for SMCC. It allows us to provide the Saudi market with a comprehensive range of high-quality construction chemicals and sealants, furthering our mission to offer innovative and durable solutions for the country's infrastructure projects. We are confident that SpEC's products, known for their reliability and performance, will contribute greatly to the Kingdom's development goals."

Elia Kazan, Global Sales & Marketing Director of SpEC, added, "We are excited to partner with SMCC as our exclusive distributor in Saudi Arabia. SMCC's understanding of the local market, combined with our advanced range of sealants and other construction solutions, positions us well to support the Kingdom's growing construction sector. Together, we aim to deliver sustainable, high-performance products that meet the evolving needs of the industry."
