Commit, a leading global tech services company, is excited to announce a pivotal milestone in their North America growth plans, with the addition of four exceptional professionals in sales, account management and delivery.

Max Nirenberg, Global CRO and Managing Director of Commit

This expansion continues the company's 2023 growth, a year of strategic foresight and operational excellence for Commit. The company's holistic approach to business, engaging a diverse range of clients from startups to established giants across multiple sectors, resulted in a 50% increase in cloud customers and being honored with the prestigious AWS 'Partner of the Year' award in Israel. This had further results of an impressive 200% increase in its North American client base, demonstrating the company's robust global delivery capabilities and adeptness at managing local accounts with a nuanced understanding.

"Our goal is to prioritize our customers and enhance our ability to deliver solutions to our clients, setting the benchmark for excellence in our industry," said Max Nirenberg, Global CRO and Managing Director of Commit North America. "These strategic hires are crucial to our long-term vision for growth and excellence. By adding top-tier talent to our team, we are better positioned to fulfill our commitment to innovation, quality, and customer satisfaction. Each new team member embodies our core values and shares our dedication to pushing the boundaries of what is possible."

Commit is a prominent global technology services company with a team of over 700 innovation experts spanning various disciplines and a strong presence in Israel, the US, Canada, the UK, and Europe.

Commit welcomes Travers Annan, Solution Architect, who designs and implements tailored solutions for clients' challenges; Drew Gallant, Account Executive, who focuses on building and nurturing customer relationships; Neha Arora, Client Partner for North America, who works closely with clients to ensure their success; and Alex D'Alfonso, Director of Sales for North America, who spearheads sales initiatives and drives market expansion.

Established in Israel in 2005, Commit has positioned itself as a prominent force in global technology solutions, specializing in supporting visionaries to achieve success. This commitment is a cornerstone of Commit's values, and its portfolio of over 30 unicorns underscores our dedication to assisting innovators to thrive and grow.

Commit's recent strategic hires are focused on enhancing delivery power and a customer-centric approach. The addition of top-tier talent to the team demonstrates the company's commitment to providing high-quality solutions and a seamless experience for our clients. By strengthening the team with professionals who share a dedication to understanding client needs and adding value to their businesses, Commit is confident in their ability to set the standard for excellence in the industry. These strategic hires align with the long-term vision for growth and excellence, reinforcing their promise of innovation and client satisfaction.
