

Breaking New Ground: Mina Concrete Launches Pioneering Demo and Rebuild Project

Denver, CO – MINA LLC, a leading Denver concrete contractor, is excited to announce the launch of a pioneering demo and rebuild project. Owner Snow Gonzales will be spearheading this ambitious endeavor, which involves the complete demolition of existing concrete and the pouring of a new foundation.

“As a concrete contractor with over 35 years of experience, we are always looking to push the boundaries of what is possible. This demo and rebuild project is a testament to our commitment to excellence,” said Snow Gonzales, owner of MINA LLC. “We are eager to showcase our capabilities and the high-quality materials we use to transform structures.”

Project Overview

The project will kick off with the demolition of the existing concrete structure. Following this, a new foundation will be poured, upon which the new 50 foot by 60 foot steel building will be constructed. To document this monumental task, a time-lapse video will be recorded, capturing every phase of the project from start to finish. This video will be available upon completion, offering a unique behind-the-scenes look at the intricate process involved in such a comprehensive rebuild.
