

Netsweeper and Jisc Strengthen Partnership with New Contract to Enhance Digital Safety Across the UK Education Sector

LEEDS, UNITED KINGDOM, September 27, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Netsweeper, a global leader in internet content filtering and online safety solutions, is pleased to announce the formalisation of a new partnership with Jisc, the UK's digital, data, and technology agency focused on supporting higher education and research. This collaboration underscores both organizations' commitment to enhancing digital safety and security across the UK's educational institutions.

Jisc, known for its dedication to improving technology and internet safety within the education sector, has now formally partnered with Netsweeper to provide enhanced online safety solutions directly to its members. While Netsweeper has previously been available through the Jisc framework, this new partnership marks the beginning of a direct collaboration, ensuring that UK educational institutions have access to world-class content filtering solutions that protect students and staff from harmful online content.

David Stokes, Sales Director at Jisc, expressed excitement about the continued partnership. "We are thrilled to extend our collaboration with Netsweeper. Their expertise in online safety aligns perfectly with our mission to provide a secure digital environment for education and research in the UK."

Perry Roach, CEO of Netsweeper, commented, "We are honored to continue working closely with Jisc to support their mission of safeguarding the digital experiences of millions of users in the UK education sector. This contract signifies our shared commitment to innovation and security."
