EINPresswire.com/ -- The film festival

darling "A Little Family Drama," directed by Nadia Zoe, will release to select theaters on October 11th. The film, marking Zoe's directorial debut, promises to captivate audiences with its poignant narrative and powerful performances. The film features the work of Alma Martinez (Zoot Suit), Diana Torres (East Side Sushi), Ramón Torres (Last Ferry), and Romi Dias (9-1-1) with music supervision by Steve Berlin of Los Lobos.

"A Little Family Drama" follows the Sepulveda family as they navigate their annual reunion, which quickly spirals into hilarious and heartwarming chaos. With secrets spilling faster than the salsa, and a food truck disaster that's hotter than the tamales, this comedy will have you laughing, crying, and craving conchas.

This is the second feature film from Emblematic Pictures winning seven festival awards so far including Best Feature, Outstanding Independent Feature, and others; selected as the opening night film for the 24th Annual Valley Film Festival and closing night for the nation's longest running latino film festival 45th Annual CineFest San Antonio; and, honored with the Reframe Stamp, a mark of distinction for projects that have demonstrated gender-balanced hiring across the production.
