RTM Law, APC is accepting cases from individuals and families affected by the Airport Fire. The firm is equipped to handle a variety of claims, including:

Inverse Condemnation – Victims may file a claim against public or private entities responsible for causing the fire, such as a public works crew whose machinery started the blaze. This can include compensation for property damage and lost belongings.

Negligence Claims – Victims can pursue claims if the fire was caused by negligent actions, such as operating equipment in unsafe conditions. These claims can lead to compensation for a wider range of losses, including personal injury and lost income.

For many fire victims, dealing with insurance companies can be a difficult and frustrating process. Our legal team is prepared to assist clients with insurance disputes to ensure they receive fair compensation for their losses. We will also investigate all potentially responsible parties, including contractors and equipment manufacturers, to maximize compensation.

Act Quickly to Protect Your Rights

Victims of the Orange County Airport Fire have limited time to file claims. Under California law, claims for property damage and personal injury must be filed within six months of the date of the fire. We encourage those affected to contact the firm immediately to ensure their legal rights are protected.
