As the threat landscape continues to evolve and cyberattacks become increasingly sophisticated, organizations are recognizing the critical importance of partnering with a "security-first" service provider, ensuring that robust cybersecurity measures are never an afterthought.

Forthright Cyber emerges as a strategic response to this growing need, leveraging Forthright's decades of expertise in delivering tailored solutions to their global clientele.

"Forthright is more than just another service provider, we are our clients' trusted partner" said Rory Sanchez, CEO of Forthright. "They've asked us for help in navigating today's complex cybersecurity landscape with confidence. Now, with our trusted vendors and strategic partners, we intend to deliver. At the end of the day, the launch of Forthright Cyber is simply another milestone in our continuing mission to exceed expectations and always hold our clients' interests above all else."

Adding to this announcement, Forthright is pleased to introduce Heath Gieson, who recently joined the organization as Chief Information Security Officer (CISO). Heath will be heading up

Forthright Cyber and brings a wealth of real-world experience to this role.

Sanchez added, "Heath was doing cybersecurity before cybersecurity was cool. I'm excited to be working together again. He's a great fit to the culture here at Forthright."
