What: An international event marking the one-year anniversary of the brutal Hamas attacks that shocked the world. The commemoration will reflect on the terror, murder, and atrocities committed against Israelis, particularly Jews who had offered their friendship and goodwill. The discussion will also address the ongoing propaganda war, the rise in anti-Semitic incidents, and the continued global debate surrounding Israel's right to defend itself.

Where: Rayburn House Office Building, #2075, Washington, DC

When: 11:00 AM EDT, October 7, 2024

Why:

On October 7, 2023, Hamas and their allies launched violent attacks that included murder, rape, and terror, often targeting women, men, toddlers, and infants. The global community gathers a year later to ensure that these horrors are not forgotten and to reaffirm Israel's right to exist and defend itself. Although Israel's response initially garnered global support, Hamas quickly turned the tide of public opinion, escalating tensions worldwide. Jewish communities have since faced growing hostility, with pro-Palestinian protests disrupting cities and campuses, leading to a rise in anti-Semitism, discrimination, vandalism, and violence.

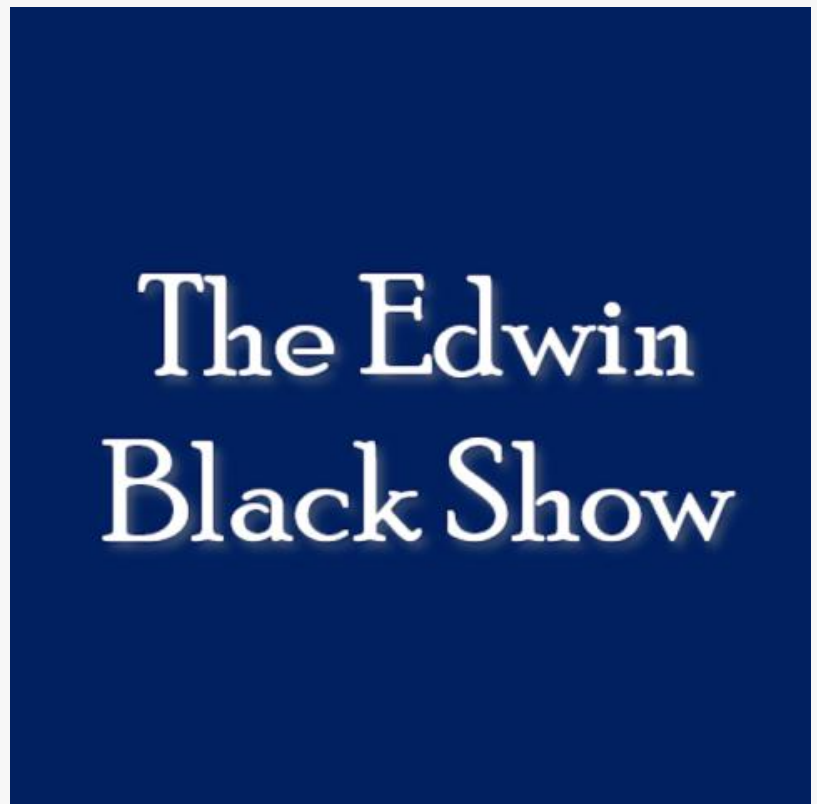

This event aims to ensure that these truths are acknowledged, remembered, and addressed to prevent such tragedies from recurring.
