A Legacy of Innovation: The Story Behind QelviQ

of Chianti. Frustrated by the lack of solutions for maintaining proper beverage temperatures, they decided to create their own.

Understanding that wine is a delicate and complex creation, Xavier and Helena spent years researching and developing technology that could ensure wine is served at its ideal temperature. The result was the QelviQ Personal Sommelier, a portable device that became a must-have for wine lovers around the world. With the launch of the Q-Speed Cooler, QelviQ is now bringing this same commitment to excellence to all beverages, offering a cooling solution that is as quick as it is effective.

Unmatched Cooling Experience: Driven by a Passion for Perfection

The Q-Speed Cooler represents the culmination of eight years of research and development, during which Xavier and Helena assembled a team of top sommeliers, product engineers, and tech developers. Their goal was to create a product that could meet the needs of modern consumers—offering both speed and convenience without compromising on excellence.

The Q-Speed Cooler is not just for wine; it's designed to enhance the enjoyment of any beverage. Whether cooling water, juice, soda, or spirits, the Q-Speed Cooler guarantees the perfect temperature in a fraction of the time. This innovative device is ideal for outdoor enthusiasts, busy hosts, and anyone who values both time and taste.
