

The Task Force Releases Advancing Affordability in Value-Based Care Models

WASHINGTON D.C., DC, UNITED STATES, October 3, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The Health Care Transformation Task Force (HCTTF or Task Force) – a group of leading health care payers, providers, purchasers, patient organizations, and value transformation partners – released a resource on Advancing Affordability in Value-Based Care Models. The resource presents 15 strategies that health care organizations can implement under value-based care (VBC) arrangements to drive affordable care for patients, increase access to care, and advance health equity. This resource also highlights affordability efforts implemented by three health care organizations and Task Force members– Elevance Health, MedStar Health, and Sentara Health.

The high cost of U.S. health care is a significant burden on individuals and families. While VBC efforts have focused on improving the quality of care while reducing health care system spending, these initiatives alone have not sufficiently addressed the rising out-of-pocket costs consumers face. More targeted efforts are necessary to ensure health care becomes truly affordable for all.

The Task Force would like to acknowledge the valuable contributions of the Task Force’s Affordability Strike Group, overseen by the co-chairs of the Patient-Centered Priorities Work Group – Sarah Coombs, Jeanne DeCosmo, and Tim Williams.

“Affordability is one of the biggest barriers preventing people from receiving the care they need, when they need it,” said Jeff Micklos, Task Force Executive Director. “The strategies outlined in this resource are designed to help health care organizations make meaningful progress toward reducing financial burdens for consumers while improving care quality and equity.”

“Far too many people in the U.S. are struggling to afford the care they need,” said Sarah Coombs, Director for Health System Transformation at the National Partnership for Women & Families. “Rising health care costs are affecting everyone, but especially people impacted by systemic socio-economic inequities, including women, people of color, people with disabilities, and the uninsured. Affordability efforts are part of the solution toward expanding access to health care and advancing health equity.”

“Ensuring health care is affordable allows patients to access high quality care early on and avoid unnecessary and expensive hospitalizations,” said Jeanne DeCosmo, Senior Director of Clinical Care Transformation at MedStar Health. “MedStar Health is pleased to present several affordability efforts highlighted in the resource, including Mobile Health Clinics and other programs aimed at lowering costs of care.”
