

Meinger Cracow by Magdalena Federowicz Boule Wins Bronze in A' Interior Design Awards

Hybrid Hotel Receives Prestigious Recognition for Innovative Interior Design

COMO, CO, ITALY, October 3, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The A' Design Award, a highly respected competition in the field of interior design, has announced Meinger Cracow by Magdalena Federowicz Boule as a Bronze winner in the Interior Space and Exhibition Design category. This prestigious recognition highlights the exceptional creativity and functionality of the hybrid hotel's interior design, setting it apart as a noteworthy achievement within the industry.

The Bronze A' Interior Space, Retail and Exhibition Design Award recognizes designs that demonstrate a high level of innovation, practicality, and potential to positively influence industry standards. Meinger Cracow's win showcases its relevance to current trends and needs within the interior design industry, aligning with best practices and advancing the field through its unique approach to combining hotel services and shared amenities.

Meinger Cracow stands out for its flexible room structure, offering a range of accommodations from classic double rooms to shared dormitories. The design draws inspiration from the rich history and legends of Krakow, incorporating motifs such as magic, chess, and local food stalls to create a captivating and immersive experience for guests. The careful selection of materials and attention to detail ensure a space that caters to a wide group of customers while maintaining a cohesive and enchanting atmosphere.
