

Lyzr Launches Agent API Studio at PyCon 2024, Simplifying AI Agent Building for All

This new tool empowers developers and non-technical users to easily build and deploy AI agents, accelerating the adoption of AI across various industries.

NEW YORK CITY, NY, UNITED STATES, October 4, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Lyzr, the New York based enterprise AI agent framework provider, made a significant impact at PyCon 2024, a premier event for Python developers, where it launched its innovative Agent API Studio.

This new tool empowers both developers and non-technical users to easily build and deploy AI agents, accelerating the adoption of AI across various industries.

The two-day event sponsored by Lyzr, saw 1,500 attendees, with Lyzr's booth drawing significant attention.

Over 500 visitors engaged with the Lyzr team, resulting in 250 live demos and more than 150 AI agents built using the newly launched Lyzr Agent API Studio.

Lyzr's Presence at PyCon

PyCon 2024, a well-known Python developer conference, provided Lyzr with the opportunity to engage a highly technical audience while also demonstrating the accessibility of its tools to non-developers.

The event was filled with booths from industry leaders, including WSO2, ManageEngine, and Abnormal Security, making it a highly competitive space for Lyzr to showcase its unique value proposition.
