

New Leaf Detox & Treatment In Orange County Proudly Offers One Of The Best Animal Friendly Rehab Programs In California

Laguna Niguel, California – One of the top rehab and detox centers in Southern California, New Leaf Detox and Treatment Inc. proudly offers one of the best animal friendly rehab programs in the area.

An animal friendly rehab offers valuable support for individuals dealing with alcohol or drug addiction. Allowing patients to bring their animals can alleviate concerns about pet care costs, finding reliable kennels or sitters, and the emotional strain of being apart from their pets—helping those hesitant to seek treatment feel more at ease and motivated to begin their recovery journey.

“You will get as much if not more from rehab with your pet,” said a spokesperson from New Leaf Detox and Treatment Inc. “Your pet will bring you the reduced anxiety that is beneficial during rehab and treatment programs and will even help reduce the stress within the group. They will not interfere with daily activities related to rehab and therapy, only enhance them.”

Many insurance policies cover animal friendly rehabs as it is no different than regular rehab to a carrier. However, it is recommended for individuals who are researching rehabs to read through policy plans or check with the insurance provider to see if addiction treatment is covered.

Emotional support animals can come in all shapes and sizes. Patients who wish to bring a pet – whether that is a dog, cat, rabbit or more exotic animals like snakes, chimps, pigs, or rodents – will need to coordinate with the rehab center in advance to discuss and approve their plans.

Individuals who bring a pet while undergoing recovery at New Leaf Detox and Treatment Inc. will be responsible for the care and well-being of their animal throughout their stay. Pet owners must bring enough food to keep the animal fed, clean up behind them, take the animal out to potty, as well as other regular pet care needs. Pets must be up to date on vaccinations as well. By offering the very best animal friendly rehab programs in California, New Leaf Detox and Treatment Inc. encourage people who want to recover from drugs or alcohol to take the leap and get started on the healing journey.
