In February 2024, SY entered into a strategic cooperation with Wuxi Taihu New City Development Group ("Taihu New City Group"), which acquired a controlling stake in Wuxi Guojin Commercial Factoring ("WXGJ Factoring"). Although this deconsolidation resulted in a short-term decline in credit-related income, total assets, and net profit, WXGJ Factoring's business scale is expected to reach RMB 10 billion within three years, contributing to a 60% increase in SY's net profit and platform service revenue. This growth will transform SY's revenue mix, with technology revenue expected to contribute 50% of total revenue by 2025.

This not only met customers' financing needs but also enabled targeted distribution of wages, ensuring their timely payment. Furthermore, SY leveraged the "24/7 large-amount loan support" and "full-cycle transparency and traceability" advantages of "Digital RMB + Factoring Financing" to effectively connect enterprises and meet the financing needs of various supply chain scenarios, ensuring that inclusive financial services remain available throughout the year. As of June 30, 2024, SY had issued approximately RMB 243 million in factoring financing in the form of digital RMB.
