Report ID: AMR202410656, Report Date: October 7, 2024

The rise in huge financial challenges among investors, & other external forces that compel businesses to arrange finances for their business expansions has worked as the major factor driving the growth of the global investment banking & trading services market. Also, the surge in demand for fundamental advisory from corporate companies and the increase in the need for capital requirements & business expansion among firms supplement the growth yet more. On the other hand, rapid growth in cyber-attacks & data thefts and stringent government regulations imposed by several government bodies restrain the growth to some extent. However, developing economies offer significant opportunities for investment banking solution providers. This factor has been beneficial for the market growth.

Report ID: AMR202410656-

Evolving financial regulations, during the pandemic, have impacted the global investment banking & trading services market negatively. However, the key players in the market have started enhancing the existing business models and operational platforms, which in turn has aided the market to recoup soon.

Global Investment Banking & Trading Services Market Share by Service Type 2019-2027

Based on service type, the trading & related services segment accounted for nearly three-fifths of the global investment banking & trading services market share in 2019 and is anticipated to lead the trail by 2027. This is attributed to the fact that demand for trading activities such as principal trading & market making and proprietary trading is gaining momentum among financial advisory firms, banks, insurance companies, and others. The financial advisory segment, on the other hand, would grow at the fastest CAGR of 7.8% during the forecast period, because investment bankers are increasingly providing financial advisory services to a wide range of clients across several government bodies, corporations, and institutions.

Simultaneously, the healthcare segment would register the fastest CAGR of 7.5% throughout the forecast period. This is because this sector essentially engages in exporting & importing and pharmaceutical chemicals & healthcare finance for the purchase of medicines & equipment.
