Knight Outdoor Products carries C&H Carports' steel structures, which include carports, garages, RV covers, barns, and commercial buildings. These products are manufactured in the United States, and installation services are also provided when needed. The company's carports and other steel structures are designed to protect vehicles and equipment from weather conditions.

In addition to carports, Knight Outdoor Products also offers portable buildings from Stor-Mor Portable Buildings. These structures are customizable, so customers can modify features such as windows, doors, shutters, and paint colors.
