

The Future of Division 1® Launches to Empower the Next Generation of College Athletes

New Platform Aims to Demystify the College Recruiting Process and Level the Playing Field for Aspiring Division I Athletes

LOS ANGELES, CA, UNITED STATES, October 10, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The Future of Division 1® (The Future of D1), a groundbreaking new online platform founded by Black female entrepreneur Askia Underwood, is dedicated to guiding and supporting aspiring Division I athletes, announced its official launch today. Just as high school basketball season tips off, The Future of D1 enters the game with a comprehensive resource hub designed to demystify the college recruiting process and empower athletes to achieve their dreams of competing at the highest level.

The Future of D1: Where the stars collide and the best compete.

Forget the hype and false hope. The Future of D1 is about action and results. We're not just offering information, we're providing the tools and strategies to turn aspirations into reality.”
Askia Underwood, Co-Founder

Leveling the Playing Field:

In the fiercely competitive world of amateur athletics, securing a Division I scholarship can be a daunting challenge. "Forget the hype and false hope. The Future of D1 is about action and results. We're not just offering information, we're providing the tools and strategies to turn aspirations into reality," says Askia Underwood, Co-Founder. The Future of D1 provides a clear roadmap, offering invaluable insights, expert advice, and essential resources - all available without a paid subscription - to help athletes, parents, trainers, and coaches navigate the complexities of college recruiting.

Key Features of The Future of D1:

Empowering the next generation of Division 1 athletes. We are The Future of D1.

Spotlight on Rising Stars:

To mark its launch, The Future of D1 is featuring an in-depth look at the burgeoning basketball talent emerging from both California and Georgia. These two states are hotbeds for future Division I stars, with players like Caleb Wilson (Holy Innocents' Episcopal School, GA) and Jordan Askew (Sierra Canyon, CA) already making waves. The Future of D1 will follow their journeys and provide exclusive coverage of other top prospects across the nation each week.

A Movement for the Future:

Whether you're a freshman just starting to explore your options or an unrecruited senior actively seeking scholarships, The Future of D1 provides tailored guidance for every stage of the recruiting process. With a focus on accessibility and clarity, the platform offers access to information, fostering a passion for competition, and offering guidance every step of the way, The Future of D1 is committed to helping athletes achieve their full potential.
