2023's inaugural festival was an unqualified success, attracting tens of thousands of country music fans who took in riveting performances from Lainey Wilson, Thomas Rhett, and Sam Hunt, amongst many other exciting artists. This year's installment is sure to deliver another unforgettable two days of non-stop entertainment and celebration of all things country.

A must-see group at this year's festival is the multi-platinum, GRAMMY® Award-winning group Zac Brown Band, who will be bringing their "Chicken Fried" classic to Miami. Throughout their career spanning more than a decade, this hard-gigging band from Atlanta has scored six consecutive albums that reached the Top 10 of the Billboard 200 and five consecutive albums debuted at #1 on Billboard's Country Albums chart. The group has won three GRAMMY® Awards, including Best New Artist in 2010.

Festival headliner Carrie Underwood hardly needs an introduction, save the fact she is the best-selling female country artist of all time, selling more than 85 million records worldwide. The charismatic Oklahoma native recorded 28 chart-topping singles (14 of which she co-wrote) and is the most-awarded female country artist for singles in RIAA history. She has won over 100 major awards including 8 GRAMMY® Awards, 16 ACM Awards including three for Entertainer of the Year (the first female in history to win twice and the only female ever to win three times), 25 CMT Music Awards (holding the record for the most award wins ever for the show), 7 CMA Awards, and 17 American Music Awards. More recently, as an American Idol season four winner, Carrie Underwood officially claims her seat at the judges' table for the first time alongside Lionel Richie and Luke Bryan for season 25 of the upcoming singing competition show. American Idol is slated to premiere in 2025.

A unique festival entry is GRAMMY® Award-winning DJ, producer, and songwriter Diplo, a prominent figure in dance music circles who has jumped headlong into country music via his electro-cowboy persona, Thomas Wesley. Diplo's creation of a Western music persona, particularly under his alias "Thomas Wesley," is part of his exploration of blending different genres. Diplo, known for his work in electronic and dance music, wanted to experiment with country and Americana styles, which are deeply rooted in American culture. As part of his Thomas Wesley project, Diplo has collaborated with several country music stars, including notable collaborations with Morgan Wallen on smash hit "Heartless," the Cam-featuring "So Long," and Thomas Rhett for the hit "Dance with Me." The Thomas Wesley project, particularly with the release of his album Diplo Presents Thomas Wesley, Chapter 1: Snake Oil, was his way of pushing boundaries and continuing his trend of genre experimentation. Through these collaborations, Diplo aimed to bridge the gap between country and other modern genres, showing his versatility as a producer and artist. His power collaborations with global stars such as Justin Bieber, Sia, and Morgan Wallen, have racked up over two billion streams on Spotify alone.
