CyberQ Group Founder Chris Woods Nominated for Tech Leader of the Year at Birmingham Tech Week

WEST MIDLANDS, UNITED KINGDOM, October 9, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Chris Woods, Founder of CyberQ Group, a leading provider of innovative cybersecurity solutions and services, has been nominated for the prestigious Tech Leader of the Year award at Birmingham Tech Week 2024. This nomination recognises Chris Woods' outstanding contributions to the technology industry and his visionary leadership in driving innovation and growth within CyberQ Group.

Since founding CyberQ Group in 2017, Chris Woods has been committed to making businesses cyber resilient. With a focus on delivering bespoke solutions tailored to each client's unique needs, CyberQ Group has become a trusted partner for organisations of all sizes – from ambitious start-ups to global enterprises. Under his guidance, the company has developed groundbreaking AI-powered security tools and services, including advanced threat monitoring and vulnerability assessment platforms. They have also secured significant funding to fuel expansion and research into cutting-edge cybersecurity technologies. This has enabled them to grow their international presence with offices in the UK, US, and the Philippines, allowing for 24/7 "follow-the-sun" support for their global clientele. CyberQ Group has achieved industry recognition for its commitment to excellence, including CREST accreditation for its penetration testing services and ISO 27001 certification across all its offerings. It has also built a team of world-renowned cybersecurity experts with deep expertise
