About the Artists:

REEB! (Real East End Brass) □

A Louisiana-style brass band composed of passionate music educators, REEB! brings a vibrant, soulful energy to their performances. The band is dedicated to honoring the brass band tradition while promoting instrumental music in local schools and the community. Over the years, REEB! has become a local favorite, performing at events like the Montauk Youth Group Picnic, Bay Street Theater, and numerous benefit shows. The band rehearses at the Hampton Bays American Legion, making this benefit show a truly personal endeavor.

"The Legion has provided us a home for the last few years," said Chris Mandato, trumpet player for REEB!. "Giving back to them with a fundraiser is the least we can do to support the work they do for veterans."

Saxophonist Tye Granger added, "The Legion not only gives us a space to hone our craft but also allows us to provide entertainment to those in need. We're honored to be part of this important cause."

With their infectious energy and community-driven mission, REEB! offers a night of music that celebrates the intersection of tradition, education, and advocacy.

Phil Firetog Trio & Co. □

Blending modern rock, folk, and jazz, Phil Firetog Trio & Co. is known for their emotionally charged performances and original compositions. Led by singer-songwriter Phil Firetog, this Long Island-based group is composed of multi-instrumentalists who create intricate, dynamic arrangements that captivate audiences. Their upcoming release, "What You're Good For," explores the emotional highs and lows of toxic relationships with powerful storytelling and lush instrumentation.

"We're incredibly honored to be performing at this American Legion benefit," said Phil Firetog. "Inspired by our friends in REEB!, we're proud to contribute to this cause and support the important work the Legion does for veterans and the community."

Phil Firetog Trio & Co. strives to push the boundaries of original music, offering a fresh yet familiar sound that resonates with listeners across genres.
