

The Wireless Innovation Forum Presents Global Perspectives on Spectrum Sharing

Free live stream event from London features regulatory and industry perspectives

WASHINGTON, DC, UNITED STATES,
October 10, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ --
The Wireless Innovation Forum (WInnForum) is pleased to announce the upcoming live stream on the topic of Global Perspectives on Spectrum Sharing, to be held 31 October – 1 November 2024. Hosted by Shure and sponsored by the WInnForum, the webinar is a stream of an on-site event in Shure's London office.

“WInnForum is proud to sponsor this premier spectrum summit bringing various regulators and industry stakeholders together to discuss spectrum needs of various industries and how sharing could play an important role in making an efficient use of this scarce spectrum resource,” says Prakash Moorut, Chief Regulatory Officer of WInnForum and Global Head of Spectrum & Regulatory Affairs at Shure Incorporated. “Shure is honored to host this event at its office in Central London. As a leading manufacturer of innovative and high-quality audio products, we are particularly eager to hear first-hand about sharing of spectrum by hundreds of devices, including wireless microphones, that were necessary to make the recent Paris Olympic games a success”.
