just welcomed a bold new player: Ethicarat, a brand that seamlessly blends timeless craftsmanship with modern innovation. Officially launched this fall, Ethicarat is transforming the luxury jewelry landscape with its focus on sustainability, elegance, and cutting-edge AI technology.

Founded by Komal Patel, a tech industry leader with over two decades of experience in building enterprise and consumer tech hardware and software, Ethicarat brings a unique perspective to the jewelry world.

Leveraging her background in AI and innovation, Komal has fused her family’s five-generation legacy in fine jewelry business with sustainable practices and technology-forward solutions to create a brand that meets the demands of today’s conscious consumer.

The Future is a Soulaitaire: At the heart of Ethicarat’s philosophy is the belief that luxury and individuality can go hand-in-hand. The brand’s tagline, “The Future is a Soulaitaire,” captures the vision of creating jewelry that is not only elegant but also personal and ethical. Every piece is a reflection of the wearer’s soul—a one-of-a-kind expression of beauty and purpose, where innovation and sustainability come together to define the future of luxury.

Curated Collections for Every Occasion: Ethicarat’s debut includes a series of carefully curated collections, with designs that are minimal, timeless, and wearable. These pieces are crafted to seamlessly transition from everyday moments to special occasions, combining both elegance and functionality.

- Soulaitaire: Embrace timeless beauty with designs that honor tradition and sustainability.
- Éclat: Revel in vibrant luxury with dazzling diamonds and innovative designs.

- Epoch: Celebrate significant milestones with birthstone and zodiac-inspired jewelry that adds a personalized touch to life's special moments.

- Zenith: Merge ethical luxury with natural beauty, perfect for those seeking refined sophistication.

- Gaia: Enjoy exquisite craftsmanship inspired by nature, harmonizing luxury with environmental responsibility.

Each piece is crafted from lab-grown diamonds and recycled solid 14K and 18K gold, combining ethics with elegance to create luxury that doesn't compromise on values.

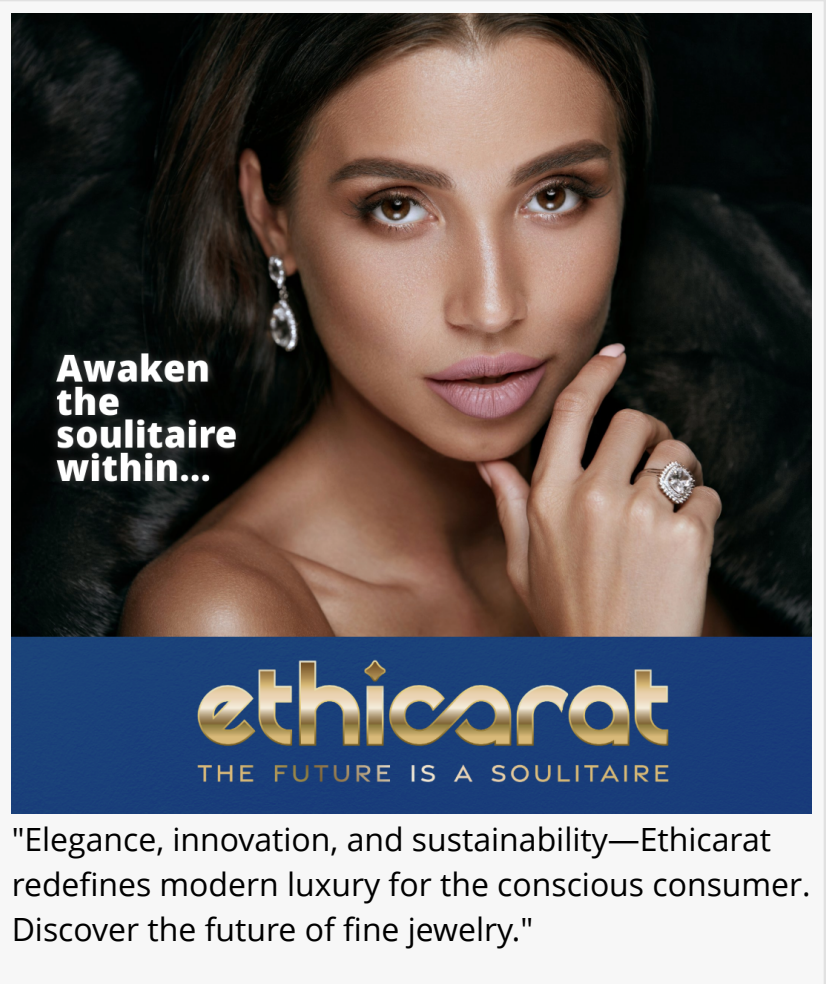

Introducing the AI-Powered Designer:

In addition to the launch collections, Ethicarat has unveiled a game-changing innovation: its proprietary AI-powered designer tool. This unique tool allows customers to craft their own custom jewelry, offering personalization that was previously only available through time-consuming consultations with traditional jewelers. With just a few clicks, customers can design bespoke pieces that reflect their individuality, all while enjoying the peace of mind that comes from knowing their jewelry is made from sustainably sourced materials.

"Our AI designer represents the future of personalized luxury," says Komal Patel. "We're bringing cutting-edge technology to an age-old craft, making it easier than ever for customers to create pieces that are uniquely theirs." The AI-powered designer is currently available by invitation only, further adding to its exclusivity and allure.

Gift A Luxury That Sparkles Every Day: Ethicarat's pieces are not just reserved for special occasions. Their watch band accessories, part of the launch collection, are designed to add a touch of luxury to your everyday life. Crafted with the same attention to detail as their high-end jewelry, these pieces offer an easy way to incorporate sophisticated sparkle into any outfit, effortlessly elevating your daily wear.

"Our watch band accessories, in particular, are a standout," says Patel. "They offer a one-of-a-kind luxury experience, bringing an eco-conscious sparkle to everyday wear, making them the
