ELGIN, IL, UNITED STATES, October 15, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The National Small Business Association (NSBA) recently named Elohi Strategic Advisors Founder Stephanie Lind to its Leadership Council.

NSBA is the nation's oldest small business advocacy organization and operates on a staunchly nonpartisan basis.

Joining NSBA's Leadership Council will enable me to advocate for a seat at the table for the 1.1 million women business owners in America and improve representation across demographic groups"

"As a small-business owner, I see daily the importance of being involved and active when it comes to laws and regulation," stated Lind. "Joining NSBA's Leadership Council will enable me to take our collective small-business message to the people that need to hear it most: Congress. It will also allow me to advocate for a seat at the table for the 1.1 million women business owners in America, as we work to grow that number and improve representation across demographic groups."

Lind joined the NSBA Leadership Council as part of her efforts to tackle the many critical issues facing small business, including tax reform, regulatory restraint, health care costs and the ways the Affordable Care Act will impact small business.

The NSBA Leadership Council focuses on providing valuable networking between small-business advocates from across the country while ensuring small business a seat at the table as Congress and regulators take up key small-business proposals. "I am proud to have Stephanie Lind as part of our Leadership Council," stated NSBA President and CEO Todd McCracken. "She came to us highly recommended, and I look forward our coordinated efforts for years to come."

Lind will serve as a member of both the Taxation Committee, dedicated to advocating for small business in Congress, and the Economic Development Committee, which oversees all issues relating to small-business finance and access to capital, along with programs under the US Small Business Administration.
